

ABSTRACT

OF THE ACADEMIC DISCIPLINE

« ETHICAL PROBLEMS IN MEDICINE »

Purpose and objectives of studying the discipline

From a latent to fundamental moral and aesthetic values, the transformation of moral and ethical problems into paramount, requiring the formation of stable beliefs, motives of behavior, increasing the level of responsibility for their activities and its results.

Basic tasks

- to reveal and find out the subject of ethical problems of medicine, relevance and its main problems;
- analyze the main socio-philosophical issues, their features, theoretical and applied components;
- consider the specifics of philosophical comprehension of moral and ethical problems of scientific and technological progress in medical science and practice;
- characterize the philosophical problem of a person's choice of the path leading him to good or evil;
- to reveal the essence of the moral dimension of the responsibility of the doctor and the etiquette of the doctor in the modern period.

INTERDISCIPLINARY CONNECTIONS

The academic discipline "Ethical Problems in Medicine" has, first of all, links with such disciplines as "Philosophy", "Etiquette in Society and Medicine", "Ethics".

Prerequisites. The study of the discipline involves the preliminary assimilation of subjects of the social and humanitarian direction.

CONTENTS OF THE DISCIPLINE

Section 1:1 ACTUAL ETHICAL PROBLEMS OF MEDICINE. MORAL AND ETHICS DIMENSIONS OF DOCTOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Theme 1. Actual ethical problems of medicine at the present stage

Theme 2. Moral dimension of doctor's responsibility. Ethics and legal responsibility of the doctor

Theme 3. Etiquette of the doctor

Theme 4. Medical secrecy as a moral and ethical problem of modern medicine

Section 2:10 PROBLEMS OF LIFE AND HEALTH IN AN ETHICAL CONTEXT. ETHICAL RELATIONS BETWEEN MEDICINE AND RELIGION

Theme 5. The value of human life in ethics, philosophical and medical discourse. Lifestyle and its detection in medicinal activities

Theme 6. Health as a global problem in the information society. Spiritual Nature Health

Theme 7. Medicine and religion: characteristics of ethical relations

Section 3:10 MEDICAL EXPERIMENT AND THE TECHNIQUE OF MEDICINE AS ETHICAL PROBLEMS.

Theme 8. Moral and ethical problems of the medical experiment

Theme 9. Technicalization of medicine: ethical aspect

Theme 10. Social work and its medical orientation